

to a company), with directions to begin practice immediately.

"Later, through their commanding officers, captains were directed to send one man from each regimental staff to report to Colonel C. A. Dempsey, S. A. (who was detailed acting inspector small arms practice by General Order No. 35, December 15, 1906), at rifle range at Williamsburg, Va., with a view of selecting from the estimated number of thirty-six, twelve men and three alternates to represent the State on the new range at Camp Perry, Ohio. Only eighteen in all reported, and the team stood last. The reason to be drawn from this fact is not to the discredit of the Virginia Volunteers, but from the fact that there are no camp grounds owned by the State, nor any rifle ranges in existence; no funds from which to pay the natural expense arising from men leaving their business to perfect themselves in this art, and until those adjuncts are available, we may not expect this situation to be greatly improved.

"Colonel Dempsey and the adjutant-general have been endeavoring since May to provide a suitable place for a rifle range near Richmond or Petersburg, and hope to do so before this report is printed.

The report of Colonel Stern deals with conditions in every branch of the military, and gives in detail the results of his recent annual inspection. He declares that the outfitting of the Jamestown Exposition had a tendency to stimulate interest, and that the personnel of the organization is very much improved. The equipment, he declares, is, with few exceptions, complete, and the prospects for improvement in armories are good. He refers to the fact that a better record system has been put into operation, and then deals at some length with the question of rifle practice.

Colonel Stern sharply raps the officers, declaring that most of them are competent, but that many of them are not diligent in the discharge of their duties.

After Officers and Men.

Concerning this and the questions of drill and discipline among the men, Colonel Stern makes the following interesting comments:

"With so many recruits, the limited number of drills and little or no instruction in camp, both drill and discipline are far short of what they should be, but the intelligence of the men generally is such that they could in a very short time be made into good soldiers, serviceable soldiers."

"The officers, with few exceptions, are competent, but there is no use to conceal the fact that many of them are not diligent in the discharge of their duties."

"They are business men as a rule, active, energetic, and give but little time to their duties as officers. This matter should receive attention from regimental headquarters, under orders from brigade headquarters. All field and staff officers should not only inspect companies at their various stations from time to time, thereby stimulating the company officers to greater efforts, but should point out to them duties to be performed, and the manner of attending to the affairs of the company, keeping the records, preserving and caring for the equipment, maintaining discipline, and instructing the men in all drills, target firing, etc."

In his notes referring to the company inspections Colonel Stern severely criticizes several of them on various grounds. In some he refers to the lack of care of uniforms, and in others to untidy conviction of officers, and in still others to the large number of men who fail to attend drills regularly.

The reports of both officers are now being printed, and will probably be ready for public distribution before January 1st.

GIVES LIFE FOR OTHERS

Railroad Hero Saves Three Others, But Is Himself Mangled.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., October 29.—Michael Mason, a middle-aged man, employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, saved three other persons from life in saving three other persons from what seemed inevitable death. A man, woman and child reached the station on the Greensburg express, and becoming confused in passing through the train, fell upon the tracks in front of an incoming train. Mason leaped to their side, and with a vigorous push, hurled them from the tracks to the platform at the side, but before he could himself reach the platform the train was upon him, and he was crushed to death. The rescued passengers escaped in the confusion, and their names were ascertained. Mason leaves his widow and two children.

GOVERNORS TO CONFER

Meet in Atlanta Friday to Consider Co-operation in Rate Matters.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., October 29.—Governor Glenn has decided to attend the conference of Governors to be held in Atlanta Friday to consider the matter of the co-operation of the several States in the litigation to enforce rates reducing passenger rates. A telegram from Governor Glenn of Alabama, to-day's instanter that Governor Glenn attend, and stated that Governor Swann of Virginia would be present. This will make the conference consist of Governor Glenn of North Carolina; Governor Connor of Alabama; Governor Smith of Georgia; and Governor Swann of Virginia.

Governor Glenn still declined to take of the compromise between the State and the Southern, which is believed by some to be impending. One thing is certain, if there is any adjustment of rates, it will be by the Legislature.

Governor Swann said last night that the statement that he would attend the conference was erroneous. He will not do so.

Government Yields to Request and Will Issue Olive Branch

There will be joy in the camp of the R. I. Blues to-day when it becomes known that the man that the War Department has written down as being a bad record soldier, it has been decided to issue olive drab service uniforms for the members of the three regiments of the R. I. Blues.

It will be recalled that the War Department took the ground not long ago that no olive drab uniforms would be issued to the R. I. Blues, because they were not equipped for duty in olive drab uniforms.

Olive drab will be issued throughout the country next spring, but the department has decided to issue them to the R. I. Blues, because they were not equipped for duty in olive drab uniforms.

The olive drab uniforms were destroyed by fire, and if they were called out in rough weather they would not be equipped for duty in olive drab uniforms.

FIRE CAUSES BAD PANIC

Lump in Moving-Picture Show Stuns Crowd in Church.

NEW YORK, October 29.—A lamp used in a moving-picture machine, which Rev. Adam C. Chambers, of the Harlem Baptist Church, was illustrating a lecture, exploded to-night, setting the church afire and throwing the audience of 500 children into a panic. Older ones made futile efforts to control the little ones, who fell over and trampled one another in their haste to reach the exits. The pastor was badly burned about the face and hands, and Maud Engelman, aged six, and Annie Becker, seven, were severely injured. The second floor of the building was burned out.

TEXAN HOLDING COTTON

Banks Agree to Advance Money on That Stored in Warehouses.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, October 29.—Arrangements were made to-day for the banks of Galveston to advance money on all cotton stored in warehouses in the city, and the situation from the planters' viewpoint is relieved for the present. At least, several banks have announced that the Farmers' Union advance money on cotton held in warehouses at higher prices, and it was believed that many of the cotton raisers of this State would be forced to sell their cotton. It is estimated that about 1,000,000 bales are being held in Texas, or practically all the cotton of the State.

Since the opening of the cotton shipping season, September 1st, vessels have been detained here several days waiting for cotton cargoes, and many are now in port waiting for cotton. Receipts at this port average 2,000 bales a day, and with 12,000 and 13,000 a year ago.

EUROPEANS BUY WHEAT

Large Shipments of Cereals Will Turn Tide of Gold.

CHICAGO, ILL., October 29.—The break in the price of wheat to-day brought large European orders for immediate shipment. Six hundred thousand bushels of red winter wheat were sold here to-day for shipment East. Chicago bankers regard this movement as a sign of the power of gold which the West is bringing to the financial situation. They say that if the movement of the great staple continues to grow the obligations to this country abroad will be so large that it will be impossible for European banks to retain their gold, even by fixing discount rates at the maximum.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Myers Case Again Goes Over Until November Term of Court.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Mrs. C. R. R. Curtis Becomes Bride of Mr. Fox, of New York.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Full Street.

Although the Myers case was to be tried this morning it has been postponed again this time on account of the indisposition of Judge William I. Crompton. It has now been pending since January, various excuses having been given for its coming to trial.

On January 30th a warrant was served on Charles H. Myers, charging him with forging a check for less than $100. Myers appeared before the Mayor on January 31st and waived examination. He made application to Judge Crompton for bail, but was refused, and remained in jail for several days a writ of habeas corpus was applied for before the Supreme Court Judge. He was released on $500. The case was called for the February term of court, but he was not indicted until the April term.

At the May term of court the attorneys for the defense, Messrs. Pollock and Pulliam, moved to quash the venire and the judge sustained the motion. The case was then set for the June term. At this time the case was ready to be gone into, when it developed that the Commonwealth was sick and could not appear. The case then went over until the July term.

On July 31st a number of witnesses had been examined, and the case had been gone into, when the Commonwealth's attorney moved to set aside the verdict. It developed that the Commonwealth had heard that a member of the jury had been guilty of misconduct since the trial. Judge Davis has been indicted and will be tried on Friday next. The case was then postponed until the September term.

The jury was sworn to-day, and given the case, and after being out several hours was unable to reach a verdict and they are dismissed.

There was a typical autumn wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Robinson, No. 1100 Decatur Street, yesterday. The bride, Miss Rebecca Robinson, of New York, was given away by her father, Mr. Arthur Robinson, of New York.

The ceremony was performed in front of an altar which was banked with palms and ferns, the entire color scheme being white and green, with blue and gold accents. The bride wore a white gown with a blue and gold train, and the groom wore a blue and gold suit.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Misses Alice and Edna Robinson, who wore white mouseline over green tulle. They carried white breathers. The bridesmaids were Misses Alice and Edna Robinson, who wore white mouseline over green tulle. They carried white breathers.

The large number of handsome floral gifts were received. Immediately after the meeting a reception was given for the New York where they will make their future home.

Bernard Kidd, who was recently operated upon at the Memorial Hospital, returned home Monday, and is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Johnson delivered a delightful lecture before the Indiana Tribe of Red Men, at the Richmond Hall, last night. The lecture was on the "Degree of Pocahontas," and was a most interesting and instructive one.

John Burke, alias Burt, was before the Richmond Police Court to-day, charged with stealing brasses from the Southern Railway. He was given six months in the city jail, and appeared at the Richmond Hall last night.

Mr. Mitchell, of No. 1310 Bainbridge Street, who was operated on at the Richmond Hall, is rapidly improving.

Mrs. J. A. Lucas left last night to visit her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Lucas, who is in the city jail, and her many friends are glad to see her out.

The "German Workers" of the Presbyterian Church will give a Halloween party in the lecture-room on Friday evening.

WOMAN ASSASSIN TO HANG

Girl Who Murdered General Maximoff-Sky Hanged to Death.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 29.—Mlle. Razoginikova, who yesterday shot and killed General Maximoff, director of the Department of Prisons of the Ministry of the Interior, was taken to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul to-day, to be executed by hanging. It was reported during the day that the police had discovered another plot against the life of Emperor Nicholas, and a high official was said to have been arrested in this connection. The police and gendarmes officials of St. Petersburg, however, profess to know nothing of the matter and intimate that the rumors probably were due to the large number of arrests and searches made in connection with the assassination of General Maximoff, which had resulted in the capture of several accomplices of Mlle. Razoginikova.

One Felon Fires Jail to Escape and Kills Another.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., October 29.—A special to the Advertiser from Enterprise, Ala., says: Leroy Brown, a prisoner in the city jail at this place, was burned to death at an early hour to-day when the jail building was destroyed by fire. A sheriff's posse is after Gols, who made good his escape.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure bad backs; cure lame, weak and aching backs; cure every form of kidney ills. Lots of local endorsement to prove this.

E. Shore, Sr., 313 North Second Street, Richmond, Va., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint and a lame back for a long time. There was a dull ache through my loins, and sometimes sharp pains would pass through my kidneys that were always more severe when I made a sudden movement. My kidneys did not act properly, and I had a frequent desire to pass the secretions. In the morning I would be so lame and stiff that I could not do my work. I tried many remedies, but did not find relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, and I procured a box at Owens & Minor Drug Co. I received relief almost at once; continued taking them, and received a complete cure. From statement given December 3, 1902."

Heard and Seen in Public Places

"The last thirty days of the Jamestown Exposition will prove a great success, and large crowds will continue to stand until the gates are closed," said a Tidewater man, who spent yesterday in Richmond.

I do not base this conclusion upon any idle guess, either. There are a number of reasons for believing it will be true. We have the thousands of Eastern and Northern tourists who make annual visits to the South during the fall and winter months, and it is reasonable to suppose that numbers of these will come during the month of November in order to avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the exposition before it closes. There are also a number of Virginians and people in nearby States who for one reason or another have deferred their visits to the exposition until this time. Again the management has wisely fixed a number of celebrations for the last month, and these are going to bring thousands from many sections of the country.

"The exposition has been a great thing for the State, and the whole State, and I know of nothing which could have done half so much to advertise our varied resources and advantages."

The travel through Richmond to the exposition within the past few days has been light, though the reservations at the hotels and colleges girls from Bristol, Tenn., were at the Lexington yesterday. They had been to the exposition, and stopped over here on their way home.

They were in charge of Professor and Mrs. M. E. Martin of Bristol, and after seeing the Capitol and other points of interest they for home to-day of Petersburg. The party was composed of Misses Retha Perry, Ruby Tyler, Ruby Kay, Jennie Wilson, Blanche Witten, Jewell Patterson, Emma L. Thomas, Bessie Wexler, Love Wood, Alma Walton, Carrie Griffith, Frances Moore, Julia Troeger and Irene Buchers.

Hon. and Mrs. L. P. Stearnes, of Newport News, are at the Jefferson. Mr. Stearnes is a former member of the House of Delegates, and is one of the most prominent business men in the seaside city.

Little or nothing is heard about the jobbies and other political haunts concerning the election which will take place next Tuesday, although it is one of great importance and involves many matters of interest to the people.

For the first time in years chairman Elyson has found it unnecessary to open Democratic headquarters, and a fruitless effort was made to secure a quorum of the State committee since the campaign was launched by a series of speeches by men of State prominence in the entire canvass.

Judge Mann was at Staunton Monday and Congressman Lamb has appeared twice—once at Buckingham and once at Dinwiddie. Former Governor Montague spoke early in the light at Saluda, and these are about all the addresses that have been made except those of delegates and one or two by local orators in the various counties. Reports from traveling men and others who drop into the city now and then indicate, however, that though a light vote may be expected in most places, and that they will control the Legislature by about the usual majorities in the two branches.

"The chestnut crop in Virginia this year was almost an absolute failure," said a man from the northern section of the State at one of the hotels last night.

"With us it means a good deal to get out chestnuts, and when there is a full crop, the merchants buy many thousands of bushels and ship them to Northern markets, mainly to Washington and Baltimore, where they are always in demand."

"This year they went as high as 20 cents a pound, though there were but few to be shipped."

"By the way, there is a light crop of all kinds of nuts, so far as I can discover. This applies to acorns, hickory nuts and other things found in the forests upon which wild animals feed. I have always heard it said that a short crop of nuts indicated a mild winter, the older people declaring that no very hard weather need be expected when nature thus failed to provide for the animals of the forest."

Virginians stopping at Murphy's are G. T. Butler, Roanoke; J. H. McCray

Mr. Henry C. Hechler yesterday confirmed the rumor that he would appoint Mr. Thomas J. Todd his deputy, should he be elected to the treasurer's office of Henrico county. Mr. Todd was employed by Mr. Hechler as his deputy when he held the office formerly.

No doubt is expressed that Mr. Hechler will win in the general election. Only one candidate opposes him—Mr. J. W. Turner—who is said to be making a systematic canvass of all the districts.

Saved by Her Quick Wits.

By her quick-witted action in shooting a mad dog, which was trying furiously to enter the house, Mrs. C. W. Bowers, of Highland Springs, on Monday afternoon saved herself and others from probable injury.

The dog, which was a pet, had been in bad condition for some days, and medicine was given to it, but without effect. Monday afternoon, frothing at the mouth, the animal jumped at the wife, and she, in a moment, falling to gain entrance to the way, shot at the dog and was successful. The dog died instantly, but a second shot was fired to make sure.

Sues for $10,000.

Dr. Woodson, of the city hospital, attended the injured men. He took Bibb to his home, No. 502 North Eighteenth Street, and Mosby, who lives on the Mechanicsville Turnpike, was taken to the city hospital.
